

Track 13: A Multiverse of Planning Theories
Room 115, 1st floor

Wednesday, July 12th

11:00-12:30

chair: Tadeusz Markowski

#709	The unnoticed return of rationalist planning paradigms in an age of digitalisation [Sielker et al.]
#641	Collective will in planning stemming from confrontation and polarization – desirable or frightening? [Hirvola]
#877	Seeking for planetary premises for planning theory [Hytönen et al.]
#951	Creating futures and new relations: tools for keeping the future abundant [Steffansen]
#985	Resistance, culture and community. Revisiting Raymond Williams' vocabulary in Wales, 40 years on [Brownill et al.]

15:30-17:00

chair: Franziska Sielker

#146	Numbers and scales: a study of the inner law or theory of ancient and contemporary Chinese spatial planning [Cao et al.]
#608	Let's Think Agonistic Theory Further! Conceptual and Empirical Insights into the Analysis of Conflicts Related to the Mobility Transition [Loffing et al.]
#103	Why don't legal theories inform planning theories more often? [Davy]
#399	Beyond the rhetoric. Planning Theory in the age of technology [Signoroni]
#685	Healthy, just and sustainable city: A theoretical framework for a small-scale urban health monitoring concept [Skodra et al.]

Thursday, July 13th

09:00-10:30

chair: Meike Levin-Keitel

#934	Insurgent planning ethics and institutional change [Buchholz]
#134	Non-partisan activist planning [Sager]
#256	Individuals matter! But how? – Analysing the importance of key individuals for planning processes. [Antoni]
#148	The Social Construction of Actors in Spatial Planning. Insights from Organisation Theory [Fischer]

11:00-12:30

chair: Tadeusz Markowski

#506	Integration in Spatial Planning Theories – the Question [Dabović]
#155	Theoretical-Methodological Framework for the Analysis of the Environmental Planning Process in São Paulo, Brazil [Leonel et al.]
#280	Applying behavioural theory to the environment-planning interface [Buck]
#1009	Planning and other urban development methods [Wroblewski]

13:30-15:00

chair: Wiktor Wróblewski

#862	Polyrationality in a turbulent world. Directions and opportunities for navigating the multiverse of planning theories [Perrone et al.]

#118	Challenges, Ambiguities, and Checkmates for Planning Theories (and Practice) [Pizzo]
#352	Idea and Planning Theory [Afrakhteh]

15:30-17:00

chair: Franziska Sielker

#541	Distinguishing “planning” from the “plan”. Theoretical and practical implications of taking urban complexity and uncertainty seriously [Moroni]
#540	Possibility design. Reconsidering aims, scope and nature of spatial planning intervention [De Franco]
#490	‘Consensus’ as a tool of foreclosure: Hong Kong’s land supply consultation [Lee et al.]
#339	Planning, policy and sustainability transformation. New insights from the Multiple-Streams-Framework? [Lintz]

Friday, July 14th

13:30-15:00

chair: Wiktor Wróblewski

#230	The uneasy marriage between urban beauty and planning: The conceptual misunderstandings threatening this relationship [Cozzolino]
#888	Aesthetics of Planning in the Age of Financialization [Aparicio]
#414	Emotions in Planning - Towards an Emotional Rationality? [Baars]
#78	Knowledge in Israeli Urban Planning [Margalit et al.]