

PLANNING PERSPECTIVES

FROM WESTERN AUSTRALIA

A READER IN THEORY AND PRACTICE

EDITED BY I. ALEXANDER, S.GREIVE & D.HEDGCOCK

Planning Perspectives from Western Australia is a definitive sourcebook on 21st century urban and regional planning issues in Western Australia. It will be an invaluable text for students of planning and related subjects, for planning professionals and of interest to readers interested in the future development of Perth and Western Australia.

Written in everyday language by leading academics and planners, twenty well-illustrated chapters provide fresh, critical appraisals of recent urban and regional planning initiatives in the state.

The collection ... touches on a number of more general questions that go to the very heart of the planning challenge in contemporary Australia, including sustainable water use and provision; the governance and funding difficulties that bedevil metropolitan coordination; design innovation in a time of environmental stress; and the need for a multi-scaled, including regional, coordination of planning effort.

From the Foreword by Brendan Gleeson,
Professor of Urban Management and Policy, Griffith University
