

Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowship in Climate Change, Property and Sustainability

Department of Land Economy

Vacancy Reference No: JP07876 Salary: £27,428-£35,788

Limit of tenure applies*

Applications are invited for a two-year Mellon Postdoctoral Fellowship in Climate change, property and sustainability available from 1 June 2011. This post presents an excellent opportunity for an outstanding early career researcher to gain substantial research and teaching experience within two leading Departments.

The post is a joint appointment between the Departments of Land Economy and Architecture in the University of Cambridge. The person appointed will contribute to teaching, especially at the postgraduate level, and undertake research on some aspect of climate change, property and urban planning and development. Applicants should have completed a PhD in a relevant area within a social science discipline. A record of publication in international peer-reviewed journals and/or university level teaching would be an advantage.

Informal enquiries may be made to Professor Ian Hodge (indh3@cam.ac.uk or +44 (0) 1223 337134) or Professor Koen Steemers (kas11@cam.ac.uk or +44 (0) 1223 760111). Further particulars and other information on the Department of Land Economy are available from the Department's website at: www.landecon.cam.ac.uk . Information on the Department of Architecture is available at: www.arct.cam.ac.uk/Arct/Home.aspx .

Applications, consisting of a CHRIS6 form (available from: www.admin.cam.ac.uk/offices/hr/forms/chris6/) , a curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests, a list of publications and the names of three referees, should be sent to Ms Marina Ballard, Administrative Officer, Department of Land Economy, University of Cambridge, 19 Silver Street, Cambridge, CB3 9EP, or can be emailed to mb346@cam.ac.uk to arrive no later than 5pm on 31st March 2011.

* Limit of tenure: Two-year Mellon Fellowship

Closing date: 31 March 2011. Planned Interview dates: Week commencing 18th April 2011.