

MASTER CLASS IN LANDSCAPE RESEARCH

21-23 October 2010
European University Institute, Florence, Italy
Deadline for applications: 30 September 2010

Provider

UNISCAPE, European Network of Universities for the implementation of the European Landscape Convention. Website: <http://www.uniscape.eu>

Location

Sala Seminario 2 - Badia Fiesolana
European University Institute, Florence, Italy

Presentation

The Master Class in Landscape Research will develop the following themes: landscape identification and typology, participation, perception, and effects of policy development on landscape. The aforementioned topics will be analysed with reference to the European Landscape Convention and in particular to urban, rural and periurban landscapes.

The program includes 13 hours of lectures and 8 hours of guided excursion. The panel of invited lecturers offers a wide range of methodologies and experiences in the field of landscape research. The Master Class is addressed to PhD students, researchers and students interested in landscape and willing to discuss and deepen their knowledge comparing it with other approaches.

Professor Mauro Agnoletti (Florence University, Department of Environmental Science and Technology) is the scientific coordinator of the Master Class, designated by UNISCAPE.

Program

21 October 2010

9:15-9:30

Welcome address of the President of IUE

9:30-10:00

Presentation of the Master Class

Bas Pedroli, Mauro Agnoletti

10:00-11:00

Opening Lecture – Oliver Rackham

11:00-12:00

Opening Lecture II – Marc Antrop

12:00-13:30

Approaches and methods for monitoring changes in the rural landscape – Mauro Agnoletti

13:30-15:00

Lunch

15:00-16:30

'The Rolling English Road': From Questions to Answers in Landscape Research - Maggie Roe

16:30-18:00

Urban Landscape: "Scale without space" - Juan Manuel Palerm Salazar

22 October 2010

Excursion “Landscape transformations in the Chianti area”

(in collaboration with CIVILSCAPE)

The program includes a full day field excursion in the Chianti area (22 October 2010). During the excursion different typologies of landscape will be analysed and assessed: traditional rural landscape, periurban landscape, industrial landscape and urban landscape.

23 October 2010

10:00-11:30

The periurban context: from outskirts to urban country – Daniela Poli

11:30-13:00

Landscape – arena for collaborative research – Bas Pedroli

13:00-14:30

Lunch

14:30-16:30

Discussion and Workshop – Bas Pedroli, Mauro Agnoletti

Language

English

Eligibility

20 Post-graduate (PhD), PhD and students.

Fee

The Master Class Fee is 120€.

The fee includes the excursion of 22 October and, prior request, the participation to the Conference Living Landscape - The European Landscape Convention in research perspective (Florence, 18-19 October 2010). For students already registered to the aforementioned Conference the fee of the master Class is 100 €.

Registration

The number of participants is limited and they will be selected by the Faculty taking into account their resumes and recent achievements. The preregistration form is available on UNISCAPE’s website.

To submit your request forward the form, fully filled in, and a copy of your resume to:

andrea.tramontana@uniscape.eu.

Application deadline: September 30th 2010.

The 20 selected students will be contacted within 1st October.

Registrations will be confirmed as soon as the payment of the fee is completed.